

Red Rag

REUNION
10 JAN 2015

Red Rag, Reading's self-styled only newspaper, is having a reunion from 2–5 pm on Saturday 10 January 2015 at the Rising Sun Arts Centre. This event is open to all interested in the Rag and the Radical History of Reading. There will be:

- ★ displays of the complete paper and online archive of Red Rag and related material: pamphlets, posters, booklets, badges, music cassettes etc.
- ★ a short talk on the history of the rag, how it came into being, how it was produced
- ★ public reading of an article illustrating the cultural and political history of 1980s Reading
- ★ short talks from local historians on the importance of the archive
- ★ time to remember deceased comrades who contributed to Red Rag
- ★ tea and cake
- ★ a discussion on how Red Rag affected its contributors and the importance of such work then and now
- ★ a discussion on what to do with the on line and paper archive.

This will be followed by a social event at a venue yet to be decided on.

A collection will be taken to cover costs
